Protests costing Municipality

THERBA KHUMALO
ETHEKWINI Mayor James Nxumalo has condemned the violent protests that have resulted in the destruction of property and infrastructure in various parts of the Municipality. This week law enforcement agencies battled protesters in Folweni, south of the City, an area where a local council office was burnt down recently. Last week there were similar incidents reported in Umbuzo and other parts of EThekwini.

The Mayor said the protests were costing the Municipality millions of rands. He said even though cost estimates on infrastructure that has been damaged had not been finalised, it was no doubt that the damage runs millions of rands.

The protests have been linked to the municipality imposing a service delivery blackout on informal settlements as a measure to clamp down on the number of land invasions. The blackout has meant that residents in the informal settlements are unable to collect water, remove their waste and access other essential services.

His Majesty King Goodwill Zwelithini is expected to zone in on the issue of anti-racism during the State of the Nation Address (SONA) on Monday 21 March, aiming to accelerate service delivery.

They must utilise the train station near the stadium to qualify for this benefit. Residents can contact their ward councillors for more details regarding transport. EThekwini Municipality is proud to be partnering with national and provincial governments to host this event.

The City’s contribution to the celebration will be providing the use of the stadium. Further support will be given including traffic police, general policing, disaster management and water for the public at no further additional cost to the City.

Human Rights Day is a national day that is commemorated annually on the 21 of March to rekindle South Africans of the sacrifices made in the struggle for the attainment of democracy in the country. It also allows the country to reflect on the progress made in the promotion and protection of human rights.

Mayor Nxumalo said the Municipality has, over the years, ensured that residents’ rights are upheld and that the achievements of March 21 is a reminder to South Africans to use Human Rights Day to lay the foundation for a long-term programme of building a non-racial society.

Free transport will be available to transport members of the public to the Human Rights Day event. Over 175 buses will be available across the Municipality in the various wards. This will be funded by National Government.

Passenger Rail Agency of South Africa is also offering free return trips for commuters who attended the celebration.

Another challenge faced by the Unit is the lack of trucks to assist in disposing of the materials used to build. Eradicating informal settlements requires a joint effort from all stakeholders. Members of the public are urged to contact EThekwini Municipality's Security Management Unit on 031 311 4699, 031 311 4701 and 031 311 4702 to report land invasions.

Robert Mabibi of the Democratic Left Front, who has been a critic of the Land Invasion Unit, is also offering free return trips for commuters who attended the celebration.

ETHEKWINI DELIVERS SERVICES TO ALL

ETHEKWINI Municipality, in partnership with the South African National Blood Services’ ‘Big Blood Drive’ campaign, urges the public to donate blood and save lives. It will be held at the Durban City Hall Auditorium on 1 April 2016. EThekwini Mayor, Councilor James Nxumalo is a custodian of the City’s appeal to its communities to bleed to save lives. Nxumalo is also a regular donor and has encouraged people to follow suit. At a recent blood drive clinic he said: “Donating blood must not be underestimated. It is up to us to assist the needy, I ask that you join me in this cause to save lives.”

The SABC News require 3000 units of blood per day. Currently, the blood stock falls short to meet the demand. Collected pints of blood are used for medical and surgical cases, childbirth, research, orthopaedic and gynaecological cases. In addition.

Clean My City legacy continues

The Mabopatala Municipality in Limpopo launched their Clean and Maintain My School programme on Wednesday, 16 March 2016. A team comprising of officials from various units such as Durban Solid Waste (DSW), Roads and Stormwater, Metro Police and Business Support educated the kids about road safety, the importance of a clean school and how to maintain conducive learning conditions. Principal Simon Mqadi said: “We faced many challenges in this ward with regards to cleaning and hygiene. We are happy that we have launched this initiative that will instill a habit of improved learning.”

City to impose fines for high water consumers

ETHEKWINI residents can rest assured that proper consultation was done before the implementation of any water cuts in areas under its jurisdiction. This follows a report containing a schedule of times and areas for water cuts that circulate on social media and on some communication platforms a week ago. The document caused panic and some residents were already making means of storing water which also resulted in very high water consumption. Mayor James Nxumalo said the report has caused a lot of unnecessary panic among the public and is not an official report by the City. Nxumalo said measures are being taken by the City to reduce water consumption as per the directive from MEC for Cooperative Government.

AS PART OF intensifying efforts to promote entrepreneurship and youth empowerment the National Department of Small Business Development in partnership with Department of Economic Development, Tourism and Environmental Affairs in the province and eThekwini Municipality handed over sewing machines and tailorboards to a group of 31 women from different parts of the KwaZulu-Natal.

The group was also awarded with certificates after completing a four weeks training course in fibre processing and manufacturing at Umkhumbane Entrepreneurship Centre. The training mainly focused on skillling women on how to make different types of clothes from scratch including shirts, trousers and skirts.

The programme is in line with the Department of Trade and Industry’s initiative called iKhuvume Skills Development which is a women’s empowerment capacity-building aimed at identifying talent in the arts, crafts, textile and clothing sectors.

One of the beneficiaries, Buyisile Mpungose from Ntuzuma, said she used to do embroidery and she is going to encourage them to continue lending a helping hand. “Our Municipality supports NGOs because of the good work and good work they do in their respective communities. Some of these NGOs are a creches, community empowerment organisations or youth based organisations and all their work is within the community. That is why we decided to only provide the alteration service to her customers because she had no skills on how to sew from scratch. She loved sewing but had no funds to enrol on a course. Government has fulfilled my dreams and I am now ready to take on the industry and make money because what I have learnt has developed my sewing skills. Focus on teen pregnancy in SDB

FAMILIES residing in South Durban Basin area look set to benefit from an eThekvi- ni Municipality initiative that aims to prevent teenage pregnancy at schools.

The Municipality’s Area Based Management (ABM), in partnership with several stakeholders, will roll out life skills programmes and awareness campaigns that are designed to assist the SDB youth to stay off the streets and focus on pursuing a successful future.

SDB official, Erukhanga Singh, said statistics showed that over one million school-go- ing teenagers fall pregnant every year in South Africa. This, she said, growing rap- idly contributes to the high statistics of school dropouts among teenage girls.

“From skills training to sports empowerment, the ABM has made concerted efforts to assist the youth, she said.

Earlier this month a two day workshop was held where youth from the Prince Cyril Zulu Zone Confer- ence were given skills on leadership, professional proposal writing and learnt how to develop a strategic sports development plan for the year ahead.

Illegal connections put lives in danger

THEMBA KHUMALO and GGUGU MDALPOSE
THE City’s Electricity Unit has urged residents who connect electricity illegally to desist from the practice. The call by the Unit was made during a Clean and Maintain My City campaign at Cato Crest where several illegally connected electricity wires were disconnected. Unit’s Zola Shabalala said illegal connections and cable theft had devastating consequences. “People are exposed to live wires and as result of this there have been a number of fatalities.” He said despite educational sessions and the removal of dangerous wiring, illegal connections continued to be a problem. “In many cases children are killed when they come into contact with uninsulated wires. A recent example is the death of an eight-year-old boy at Dakota informal settlement in Isipingo. He said damage to infrastructure was costing the Municipality millions of rands. The Municipality has a zero tolerance stance against illegal connections. Any suspicion of cable theft must be reported to the following numbers: Electrici-ty’s call centre 080 13 13 111, sms: 083 700 0819 or email custocare@elec.durban.gov.za. Clean My City tackles Zone 3

AN OPERATION carried out as part of the City’s Clean and Maintain My City campaign has uncovered an illegal crèche operating in a building on Fisher Street in Zone 3. On investigation, a team of officials from eThekwini found that the building belonged to a church organisation. Zone 3 incorporates Point, Addington and surrounding areas, an area which was targeted this week as the campaign to rid the City of litter, crime and grime.

The team tackled Fisher Street where there seemed to be little activities taking place. Upon inspection of the building, the team found a crèche operating under poor and hazardous conditions for children. eThekwini experts found that the building operated with poor ventilation, inappropriate roofing, leaking tapis and exposed wiring. There was also a room where an individual lived in, which is not allowed. A landlord was questioned and given a verbal notice to attend to the issues highlighted or the building will be shut down. The eThekwini inspection team consists of officials from Units such as Metro Police, Building Inspectorate, Urban Management Zone (UMZ), Health, Water and Business Support. romita.hanuman@durban.gov.za
Informal trading a boon for City

Thekwini Municipality’s efforts in advancing the informal trade sector is starting to pay dividends.

Nonduzo Ngcongo reports.

Making a living

Lindwe Zuma is a businesswoman who started trading informally on Johannes Nkosi (Alice) Street before the new democratic political dispensation in 1993.

She believes that some people underestimate the sector but her 22-year experience in the field has taught her that one can make a living out of street trading. She says there are thousands of families in eThekwini that depend on it for their livelihood.

"I for one can never imagine what life would have been for me and my family without this income. I can afford to support my four children. My eldest daughter is now working through the education I provided from street trading earnings," she said.

Ms Zuma said even though there are still gaps that needed to be plugged to move the sector forward, she is grateful to the Municipality for transforming the industry to the stage it has reached.

Development opportunity for local fashion designers

EFFORTS to fast-track eThekwini's vision of becoming Africa's fashion capital are advancing as the Municipality hosted a high-profile trade mission consisting of about 40 delegates from the Mauritian textile, apparel, accessories and jewellery sector on 14-15 March at Hilton Hotel.

The visit afforded 45 local fashion designers an opportunity to have exclusive engagements with the delegation to learn more about the world's emerging textile and apparel sourcing destination, latest trends and exploring export and investment opportunities.

Nondumiso Mngomezulu of Live Design welcomed the opportunity to interact with some of Mauritius' powerful fashion houses.

"This will definitely accelerate our growth in the industry. The Mauritian manufacturers are willing to produce our local products with our brands at very low rates if we send designs while our infrastructure is being developed," she said.

Mauritian Honorary Consulate Nirode Bramdaw said: "South Africa has become the fourth biggest market for Mauritius which is why we are here to create more platforms for win-win situations in terms of skills development, investment trade and business. Business is rapidly being positioned as the emerging hub of design, style and quality for global textile and fashion brands."

EThekwini Speaker, Cllr Logie Naidoo, said this was the greatest platform for local designers to source much needed information and create business linkages with Mauritian manufacturers.

"This is important, considering that the City is planning tirelessly to ensure that we revive the textile industry which could be one of the solutions in dealing with unemployment and boost the economy."

EThekwini leadership with Mauritian delegation at Hilton Hotel this week forged working partnership mostly in textile and agribusiness sector.

Gender parity highlighted at IMFO Seminar

ROMITA HANUMAN

Gender parity forms an important part of the Municipalities’ agenda and this is embedded in the Employment Equity Plan. Additionally, the City strives to develop and grow and guide them towards leadership and decision making roles. This was evident at a seminar targeted at women in the public sector. The session, held last week, coincided with the International Women’s Day. It was hosted by the Institute of Municipal Finance Officers (IMFO) in partnership with PricewaterhouseCoopers.

Titled, “Women in the Public Sector,” the two day seminar focused on various areas where women grapple with disadvantages because of their gender. IMFO President, Jane Masite, explained: “To achieve gender equality we must ensure equal participation and equality we must ensure explained: “To achieve gender equality we must ensure equal participation and equality we must ensure

City to honour US Civil Rights Movement veteran

METRO REPORTER

RESPECTED American Civil Rights Movement activist, Ambassador Andrew Young Jr, is set to be honoured with the Freedom of the City award by eThekwini. The former Mayor of Atlanta, who became the first African American to serve as the US Ambassador to the United Nations, was a colleague of Civil Rights Movement stalwart, the late Dr Martin Luther King Jr. While he was Mayor of Atlanta in the early 1990s, the diplomat assisted the people of KwaZulu-Natal, and Durban in particular, a great deal by donating much needed books, medical supplies and communication equipment. He and the late Reverend James Orange supported the African Renaissance Conference which has become an annual feature at the Inkosi Albert Luthuli International Convention Centre in Durban. For his role in the struggle for freedom, President Jacob Zuma honoured Ambassador Young with a highest order for a non-South African, the Order of the Companion of OR Tambo. The Freedom of City of eThekwini will be conferred on Ambassador Young on a date still to be confirmed. Young will become only the second public figure to receive this honour after the late former President Nelson Mandela. eThekwini Mayor, James Nxumalo, said there were obvious benefits to the City in conferring this honour to the Ambassador. “Our Association with Ambassador Young will improve access, relationships and partnership with the United States and its private sector institutions. He can play an ambassadors role in mobilising foreign direct investment for South Africa through Durban. But, also, his experience in local government as former Mayor of Atlanta will give our City great access to knowledge exchange and friendly relationships with US partners,” he said.

City Wide Skills Audit

ROMITA HANUMAN

RESIDENTS of eThekwini Municipality, particularly those that are unemployed, are encouraged to visit their Ward Councillors’ offices and local Sizakala Centres to participate in the Community Wide Skills Audit, a programme that was initiated in August 2015. The objective of the audit is to determine the existing and deficient skills within the eThekwini community. The City has already employed 69 data collectors, placed at Ward Councillors’ offices and Sizakala Centres and 20 graduates that are responsible for data capturing and analysis.

The programme is in line with the National and Local Government strategic objectives which include the New Growth Path through the National Skills Accord, National Skills Development Strategy, the eThekwini Long Term Development Framework which is aimed at addressing skills gap and improving the employability of citizens. Currently over 14000 forms have been collected and citizens are encouraged to come forward to fill in the forms. Puleng Monatisa, from the IMFO Municipal Cluster, explained what happens after the data has been collected and analysed: “We will be generating reports and categorizing them into the different skill sets and thereafter making that information available to key stakeholders who require our services.”

“We have built partnerships with private companies, industries and other government departments and the skills reports will be shared. This is in line with the City’s priority to create jobs and sustain communities,” said Monatisa. Monatisa emphasised that the programme does not necessarily mean people filling forms will be employed.

“There should be no expectations for employment, but the database will assist the Municipality to recruit qualifying candidates for skills and learnership programmes.”

We care about our citizens

LAST week a schedule for water restrictions was widely circulated on social media and mainstream newspapers detailing times for water restrictions in various areas in the City. This caused unnecessary panic among our citizens. As the Executive Council, we condemn the distribution of any information that misleads our people. The so-called leaked document was clearly used by individuals that want to paint a picture of a Council that does not care about its citizens. We care about the people we serve, we are here to ensure that their needs are prioritised. It is for this reason that the executive committee has decided to investigate the source of this document and the motive behind it.

As the Municipality, we have taken measures to manage water consumption by 15% as directed by MEC for Cooperative Governance and Traditional Affairs Nomusa Dube-Ncube three weeks ago. We have intensified our educational campaigns about the effects of water pollution on the environment and the need for our citizens to continue using water sparingly. This is being done through our Water and Sanitation education offices. Through this office and our Communications Unit, we have taken to the streets, trains and all forms of media to sensitize people about the seriousness of the drought. I would like to use this platform to reiterate to our citizens that water rationing is not a council decision. It progresses to the relevant committee and then the executive committee. After that process it then goes to council before it is approved. This leaked report did not come before a committee and had not been signed by the head of the Unit responsible. We urge our citizens to be cautious of such reports.

Meanwhile the Independent Electoral Commission (IEC) has given voters two more days to register to vote ahead of the upcoming local government elections later this year. A final registration weekend will take place on April 9 and 10. I urge all of you to make use of this opportunity and register. There is no plan for any further opportunities.

I would like to know why is it that the VAT of 14% has not yet been refunded after the third month of the Electricity and Water Bill being reconciled. To my understanding is that, for the first two months, an average estimate (which you charge VAT on) is taken. On the third month after reconciling VAT is charged yet again (whether higher or lower on usage). However, when we are credited, we are only credited the usage and not the VAT. I would like to get clarity on the matter.

It is important that I clarify a few things before I conclude about this report which has caused unnecessary jitters in the public. First, it is not an official report by the City. Second, as Council we have processes that deal with documents, starting from the Head of the Department, thereafter it progresses to the relevant committee and then the executive committee. After that process it then goes to council before it is approved. This leaked report did not come before a committee and had not been signed by the head of the Unit responsible. We urge our citizens to be cautious of such reports. A final registration weekend will take place on April 9 and 10. I urge all of you to make use of this opportunity and register. There is no plan for any further opportunities.

As the Executive Council, we would not be considering any planned restrictions. We intend to make sure that everyone has access to water.

It has become a huge inconvenience to people who have to walk to work or school. As a result they are walking on the road which is very dangerous.

The contractor will do the verge maintenance and grass cutting from Saturday, 12 March 2016 in Isipingo rail area. However, the contractor usually starts in Pardy Road and moves to Jadwat street (they will probably be in Jadwat by 14/15 March 2016). You can reach us on 322 4035/4052 for more information.

The photo is of a silhouette type and is typically presented on a light background. Durban Harbour is the largest and busiest shipping terminal on the African continent. The port is strategically placed on major international shipping routes, and is South Africa’s main cargo and container port. It handles up to 31.4 million tons of cargo each year.

Public Notice

Notice of Amendment to Contract No. 1G 19063

In terms of the Municipal Finance Management Act, Section 116(3)(a), (b)(i) and (ii), notice is hereby given for the proposed amendment to the Period of Performance and Contract Authority for Contract No. 1G 19063.

1. Contract Name

Provision of Air Traffic Navigation Services at Virginia Airport

2. Award

Awarded on 1st April 2016 to Air Traffic Navigation Services (ATNS) (Ltd) following a report to the eThekwini Executive Committee for approval thereof.

3. Contract Authority

Current (original) contract authority amount is R2, 731, 920 to be increased R9, 339, 498 for up to 3 years (VAT excluded).

4. Reasons for Amendment

The Operators at Virginia Airport have been offered a 3-year lease as per a Council Resolution on 4th December 2014, where it was resolved to engage the Airport Operators around relocation issues and the extension of their lease for a period not exceeding three years or until relocation to an alternative site(s) is realized, whichever comes first. It was therefore felt that a similar arrangement should extend to the service provider for the navigation services as a fixed term contract will not be practical should the relocation occur first.

5. Contact Persons:

AFFECTED PARTIES MUST SUBMIT THEIR REPRESENTATIONS IN WRITING NO LATER THAN 15TH APRIL 2016 TO THE CITY MANAGER, CITY BUILDING, 166 KE Masinga Road, Durban.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF AMENDMENT TO CONTRACT NO. 1N-8720

In terms of the Municipal Finance Management Act, Section 116(2a), (b)) and (ii), notice is hereby given for the proposed amendment to the Period of Performance and Contract Authority for Contract No. 1N-8720.

1. Contract Name:

MANAGEMENT AND MAINTENANCE SERVICE OF VIRGINIA AIRPORT

2. Award:

To be awarded on 1st April 2016 to India Airport Management (Pty) Ltd following approval from the eThekwini Executive Committee.

3. Contract Authority:

Current (original) contract authority amount is R629,353 to be increased R2, 151, 535 for up to 3 years (VAT excluded).

4. Reasons for Amendment:

The Operators at Virginia Airport have been offered a 3-year lease as per a Council Resolution on 4th December 2014, where it was resolved to ‘engage the Airport Operators around relocation issues and the extension of their leases for a period not exceeding three years or until relocation to alternative airport is realized, whichever comes first’. It was therefore felt that a similar arrangement should extend to the service provider of the management of the airport as a fixed term contract will not be practical should the relocation occur first.

5. Contact Persons:

Affected parties must submit their representations in writing no later than 17th April 2016 addressed to Mr Iain Bell (for the City Manager), 6th Floor, City Engineers Building, 166 KE Masinga Road, Durban.

For enquiries, contact Mr Denny Thaver on Tel. No. 031-311 4037, Cell No. 082-8971414.

Facelift for uMzinyathi sports field

SIMPHIWE DLAMINI

IT WAS rundown, unplayable and the surface had become uneven and unplayable. This was the sorry state of the most used sports field in the uMzinyathi area until eThekwini Municipality’s Parks, Recreation, and Culture intervened to give the facility a major facelift.

The sports field now boasts a new change room facility with modern ablutions, a car park and a concrete pavilion.

To prevent vandalism of the facility, the Municipality installed a concrete palisade fence, a hot dipped galvanised 5 meters vehicle barrier and a one metre high pedestrian gate.

The Head of Parks, Recreation, and Culture, Thembinskosi Ngcobo, said the upgrading of this sports field is in line with eThekwini’s infrastructure programme of taking service delivery to rural areas.

“We hope that this development will lead to other ideas of development by government and the private sector. Very soon we will commence with the installation of hot dipped galvanised 5 meters palisade fence, a concrete pavilion and a new change room facility with modern ablutions, a car park and a concrete pavilion. These amenities should be within their reach, said Ngcobo.

The work has been completed and the facility will be handed over to the community by government officials next month.

Cricket soars at grass root level

SIMPHIWE DLAMINI

ETHEKWINI Municipality, Amanzimtoti Sports Centre and the KwaZulu-Natal Cricket Union have come together to intensify the campaign of introducing more children to cricket under the programme of the KFC Mini Cricket Festival.

The tournament is a grassroots development programme aimed at boys and girls between the ages of 7 and 12 and has shown tremendous growth since it was launched last year.

Last year, a total of 800 children participated in the programme and this year saw a whopping 1200 children from various schools participating.

The festival creates a platform for kids to develop and enhance their cricketing skills while serving as a talent identification programme.

Most importantly it promotes the culture of play and social cohesion.

Acting Deputy Head of Sports Development and Recreation, Sandra Khathi, said the success of the festival has attracted the attention of Cricket SA and they set the benchmark for this event nationally.

“This year’s leg of the festival was informed by Cricket South Africa’s request to Amanzimtoti Sports Centre to host the event. This initiative is in line with the Municipality’s vision and aspirations of building a socially cohesive city. The festival brings together children of all races, from different backgrounds and schools within the metro boundaries,” said Khathi.

Secretary of Amanzimtoti Sports Centre, Cathy Colley, said the festival provides an opportunity for the under 9s, 10 and 13 to participate in mini cricket and to grow within the sport.

Durban coaches graduate in style

SIMPHIWE DLAMINI

THE head coaches of the Municipality’s SALGA Netball Team, Siyabonga Khuzwayo and Precious Mthembu, were among the 70 coaches that graduated with Grading for Assistant Coach and Provincial Coach Developer during the rollout of the National Coaching Framework, an integrated plan for the South African Sports Confederation and Olympic Committee recently.

Khuzwayo and Mthembu mentor the Municipality’s male and female teams respectively. The coaching qualifications of both coaches are internationally recognised and that will go a long way in addressing the skills shortage needed to realise transformation in sport.

This is the first batch of coaches that underwent Recognition for Prior Learning last year as part of the National Coaching Framework.

Sasco President, Gideon Sam, said KwaZulu-Natal was leading with a number of participants in the programme.

“I want to congratulate the coaches for the effort they have put and for the rewards they are going to enjoy,” he said to the excited coaches. EThekwini’s Head of the Department of Sport and Recreation, Roheini Naidoo, said the graduation of the 70 coaches was a milestone indeed. She said the process brings on board the coaches, even those who have been coaching but had no qualifications.

Youth camp to promote social cohesion

SIMPHIWE DLAMINI

TO prevent the youth from roaming the streets during this Easter Weekend and to promote social cohesion and nation-building, the Municipality’s Sports Development and Recreation Department will host a 3-day Youth Camp at Shongweni Dam from 19 to 22 March 2016.

This 3-day developmental camp that combines sports and other related activities is targeted at boys and girls between 17 and 19 years of age. It will be attended by 120 athletes that have been sourced from 21 priority codes of sports through various sports federations. The codes include, among others, netball, cricket and football.

Acting Deputy Head of Sports Development and Recreation, Sandra Khathi, said with this camp the Municipality intends to create a platform for social cohesion among youth while making sure that youngsters stay away from drugs by keeping active in the spare time.

“We are working with various stakeholders and Municipal departments to make this camp a worthy experience for the youth that will take part in it. We have partnered with Love Life and they will offer our attendees a range of healthy sexuality, positive lifestyle and skills development programmes. Our Natural Sciences Museum, will also be on site educating youth about the museum has on offer and many other activities,” said Khathi.
